Purchase of Burial Plots

At Castlereagh we also manage the historic Upper Castlereagh Methodist Cemetery. This is an active cemetery and burials are carried out at the cemetery from time to time. Limited plots are still available to be purchased under strict conditions. Plots may only be purchased by persons with documented links to the early settler families of Castlereagh, or are able to demonstrate that they have played a significant role within the life of the Church at Castlereagh. All applications for the purchase of plots are subject to approval by the board of Castlereagh. If you would like to purchase a plot and believe you are able to meet these criteria, please contact us at Castlereagh for a plot application form.

Purchase of niches

At Castlereagh, our memorial niches are now available for purchase and open to the public.
We understand how difficult it can be to plan ahead, but securing a place of rest now can bring peace of mind for both you and your loved ones. By making these arrangements in advance, your family will have one less burden to carry during a challenging time, allowing them to focus on cherishing memories and celebrating life.

Q. Can I reserve a niche now and pay for it at time of interment?
A. You need to make full payment at time of application. Otherwise we will be unable to reserve the niche of your choice. Note that the cost of the niches will be reviewed annually, so if you buy now you will probably pay less than the cost at time of internment. Beating inflation, one could say.

Q. Can I order the Niche Memorial Plaque at the time of Niche purchase?
A. No. The person needs to be deceased at the time of purchase of the plaque. We can't order the plaque until the date of death is known.

Q. Will the cost of the plaque be fixed at the time of niche purchase, even though I am not ordering the plaque now?
A. No. The price of the plaques will be reviewed annually, and will increase in line with rising cost of production of the plaques.
The price will be the cost stated on our website at the time of application for the plaque
